2 Bedroom House For Sale in Freeland Park

R1,390,000

Spacious home in lush garden environment

This large two bedroom house with great potential to expand, offers a blend of comfort and privacy. This large property provides stunning views of the tree tops and distant sea views.

A one bedroom granny flat with its own private garden is located on site that could be a house extension or finished off to be an added income generating section of the property.

An additional store room on the ground floor along with a large garage with separate workshop area provides ample space for a work from home environment or the avid "tinkerer". The property has a backup Jojo tank and water pump system which are key features that make this home a worthy investment.

Freeland Park is a mere 1.5km away from the Scottburgh CBD where you will find
